Brooklet Faculty To Present "Aunt Cindy"

Brooklet, Ga., Nov. 19.—The faculty of the Brooklet school is ready to present "Aunt Cindy Cleans Up" Friday evening, November 22nd, at 8 o'clock. Aunt Cindy, played by Mrs. J. C. Robertson; Bill Budkins by Wayne Parrish and Hester played by Miss Lolla Wyatt, are the characters that furnish side-splitting laughs.

This play is given for the benefit of the P-T. A. and a capacity house is expected.

Mrs. W. D. Lee has arranged snappy choruses between acts.

SILVER WEDDING

Brooklet, Ga., Nov. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Felix Parrish celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at their home here from 6 to 10 o'clock. Mr. Parrish and his "bride," who was Miss Stella Alderman, were married twenty-five years ago at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Alderman Sr. Elder M. F. Stubbs, of Statesboro, performed the ceremony. With the exception of a few years in Savannah they have spent all of their lives in this town.

The Parrish home was a picture of loveliness in decorations of huge white chrysanthemums and lace ferns. Soft glow from forty lighted candles gave added charm to the home. The dining table had a lace cover with a large silver vase of white chrysanthemums as a centerpiece. Above the table was a silver bell from which were draped silver streamers to the four silver candelabras on each corner.

During the evening Mrs. W. D. Lee, assisted by Miss Martha Robertson, furnished soft appropriate music with her violin ensemble. Miss Frances Hughes sang during the hour. Mrs. Parrish wore a rich green dinner gown of transparent velvet with silver trimmings. Her waist was a fullness of dainty white ruffles matching her sleeves. The skirt was draped from the waist line with released fullness falling into a full long drape. Her belt was finished with two long green silk tassels hanging from two multi-colored jewels. She wore a shoulder corsage of sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Wayne Parrish, mother of the groom, who was the only one to stand in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Parrish, wore a black silk crepe dress with a shoulder corsage of roses.

The guests were received at the door by Mrs. Parrish's sister, Mrs. Roscoe Warnock, of Atlanta. Another sister, Mrs. Fred Kennedy, of Statesboro, introduced the visitors to the bride and groom of twenty-five years ago who were standing in an opposite corner of the room between two large ferns.

Mrs. W. H. Parrish showed the guests to the dining room. Mrs. W. D. Parrish, Misses Mary Kathryn Alderman of Atlanta, Marion Parrish, Virginia Alderman of Atlanta, Louise Parrish, Doris Parrish and Margaret Alderman served yellow and white brick ice cream with wedding cake. Mrs. F. W. Hughes, Mrs. C. S. Cromley, Mrs. F. W. Elarbee and Mrs. John A. Robertson had charge of the refreshments. Mrs. J. H. Hinton and Miss Mary Ella Alderman presided over the punch bowl. Mrs. D. L. Alderman Jr. ushered the guests to the gift room, where an array of silver gifts was displayed. Mrs. Carl B. Lanier, Mrs. Herman Alderman of Savannah, and Mrs. J. D. Alderman were hostesses in this room. At the exit door Miss Ruth Parrish presided over the bride's room, where each guest registered with silver ink. She presented each visitor with a miniature silver bell.

The first group to be entertained were ten little nieces and nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Parrish. Over three hundred people were invited to call between the hours of 6 and 10 o'clock.

The entire school is observing Book Week, the theme of which is "Reading for Fun." Attractive posters calling attention to this week are put in conspicuous places. In the lobby downstairs in the school are five large files where the pupils are filing book reports of the different books they read during the week. Three short stories are equivalent to one book. Friday the student body will enjoy a Book Week program at the chapel hour. The work of the week is being sponsored by the English department.

James Waters, a member of the eighth grade of the Brooklet High School, had the misfortune to break his arm while he was practicing basketball last week. He was a substitute on the team. Bud Robertson, who is on the first team in basketball, sprained his ankle so badly as to render him unable to play for several days.

Mrs. Acquella Warnock entertained a number of her friends with a sewing and knitting party Tuesday afternoon. She used various of yellow chrysanthemums decorations. Mrs. W. W. Mann and Miss Ora Franklin assisted in serving.

Another lovely party of the week was a beans party given by Miss Large vase of yellow and bronze Glensia Lee. Wednesday afternoon chrysanthemums were used to decorate her rooms. After a number of hard games prizes were awarded to Mrs. P. R. Bryan Jr., Miss Salatia Lucas and Mrs. D. L. Alderman Jr. Mrs. W. B. Lee and Mrs. Alderman assisted in serving.

The Stilson High School boys and girls met the Brooklet teams in a double-header here Friday and split victories with the home team. The girls' score was 38 to 14 in favor of Brooklet, the boys' score was 24 to 17 in favor of Stilson.

A large crowd gathered at the high-way here Friday evening and watch-

It used to mean a man was up-to-date if you said that he was "city broke." Now it means that he is on government relief.

Bogus Money: Atlanta and other large cities are being flooded with counterfeit $20 bills by a bogus money ring operating from Washington, D. C., according to federal authorities.

Pickpockets: "Winter is on the way" Detective Chief Lamar Poole declared as he scanned police reports and listed that pickpockets have put in their appearance in the city. "The light-fingered gentry always follow the sun, and wend their way south each fall," he said.

Cotton Mills Hum: Though the fall pickup has been later this year than usual, business in cotton mills of Georgia is now back to normal, and most mills are running full time, a survey of the state shows.

Newspaper News: The journalistic genius who sits at the helm of Public Opinion, Savannah's tabloid newspaper, is none other than F. Basil Abrams, who was for more than 20 years connected with the Savannah Evening Press, resigning as sports and telegraph editor. Public Opinion, under Mr. Abrams' editorship, is making rapid strides as a state-wide publication.

Mayville Has Newspaper: L. J. Yarbrough and Roy Waddell have launched the Mayville Herald, weekly newspaper, in Banks county. The town has been without a paper since the death of G. E. Hill, who printed the Mayville Enterprise.

"This is not our newspaper, but yours, and we want you to use it," the publishers tell their readers.

Griffin Paper Changes Hands: J. R. Cannon and R. L. Soesbee, of Warm Springs, have leased the Griffin Register, weekly newspaper, from Josephus Camp. The first editorial in the appropriately captioned, "Let's Get Acquainted."

Train Ride: Either more people are traveling these days or the railroads are drawing a larger portion of the tourist trade, according to Mrs. Chas. E. Brown, editor of the Cordele Daily Dispatch. At least in the southern and middle section of Georgia train travel seems to be "humming," Mrs. Brown adds. Incidentally, special trains are expected to bring delegations to Atlanta for the Roosevelt memorial celebration.

Lots of folk, it seems are going to leave their autos at home. Beyond any question the railroads today afford the safest means of travel.

At the University of Arizona the Pan-Hellenic Association has made the ruling that first-year women must refuse dates on the grounds that girls just entering college are "not sufficiently mature to go places at night with men"—Mercer Custer.

MEXICAN PEOPLE STUDIED BY AAUW

Discussion Led by Miss Caro Lane at Last Meeting—Plans Made for Future.

The racial background of Mexico was the subject for discussion by the American Association of University Women at a meeting in the yellow cottage at the South Georgia Teachers College Tuesday, November 12th.

Before entering into the program for the evening the organization heard a brief history of the A. A. U. W. given by Mrs. Brit Buttrill, followed by the reading of excerpts by Miss Eleanor Ray.

Mrs. C. W. Smith was in charge of the program, which included a discussion led by Miss Caro Lane, Miss Lane, having recently returned from a visit in Mexico, was able to share many personal experiences in leading the discussion.

Future plans for the association include a study of the social, political and racial problems of neighboring countries; likewise a study of the music, art and literature of those countries. Later the group will study other countries which are not neighbors of the United States.

At the Tuesday meeting several new members were welcomed to the association. Miss Hester Newton, history teacher and president of the A. A. U. W., presided at the meeting.

Some archaeologists claim they have discovered that there were crocodiles around Washington forty million years ago. And one scientist is unkind enough to say that if they find any fossilized crocodiles by their mouths open they will know that these are the remains of members of the congress of that period.

WHY CITIES GROW

Communities have their individuality. They are not alike. In general they are a stranger traveling through a section sees houses, yards, trees, people; he compares these with what he saw at some other place and declares them good or bad by comparison. If these elements stand out boldly, certainly the decision is a favorable one. If they appear only ordinary, then the estimate is an indifferent one; if they are below par, then the stranger knows that there is something that has held back that community.

And it isn't hard to know what that something is—certainly cities consist of streets, yards, houses, people—but of those elements none are nearly so important as people. Indeed, with the right kind of people, streets, yards and houses will also be of the above-par kind.

If you get into your Pontiac, turn its face westward and let it go at a speed which easily suits it, forty minutes riding will bring you to a community which stands out—where streets, yards, houses and people have already made a city which is still forcing ahead. Before you enter the confines of the city, you will already have noted signs of a progressive spirit. At your right as you approach the court house square, you will see where houses have swapped locations, making desirable space in their stead for more important improvements. On the corner are walls already thirty feet high which mark the spot on which shortly will stand a $100,000 hotel. Turn in either direction, if you are riding at night, and your eyes are almost blinded with a veritable flood of white lights. Filling the air is the booming of signs—everything which denotes life—extend for blocks in any direction.

Drive northward and at a cozy little community center you notice an assemblage of parked automobiles. Inside is the sound of music, and the hum of merry voices. The rattle of silverware and the soft tinkling of china tells you that the real people who are responsible for having made the community through which you have ridden are assembled for a season of good fellowship. Inside you meet them face to face. There are Rountrees, Williamses, Prices, Humphries, Youngbloods—many others, members of the Kiwanis club, with their ladies, in joyous mood. It is their Ladies' Night, and they have taken time off from an evening of frolic to make a list of those whom you meet, and you have a list of the persons who have made people everywhere talk about the recent progressive spirit of that community—whose name is SWAINSBORO.

Personally, if it should happen that this writer was called upon to change his place of residence, he cannot think of any other place to which he should look with greater pleasure than to Swainsboro. Incidentally, the thought is in our mind that some good newspaper man, seeking an opportunity to cast his lot in a worthwhile community, has it before him at this exact moment. On the first Tuesday in December there will be sold before the court house door in Swainsboro, for the purpose of closing up the estate of the late popular citizen, W. E. Boatright, his old and well established newspaper, the Forest-Blade. Swainsboro offers a desirable field for some man worthy of the situation.

READY TO DECLARE

The Times finds itself about to be smoked out of hiding on the Ethiopian-Italian question. Up to the present, the war has remained so far away from us, and so few of our personal friends were involved, that we have felt justified in remaining as nearly neutral as is possible when people are killing each other.

But we are now at the point where we must speak or suffer condemnation of an unknown friend who put it up to us. A letter received from a Middle Georgia town demands to know: "I wonder how you stand on the Ethiopian and Italian war? All we crackers are in favor of Ethiopia. We feel that Italy had no right whatsoever to invade an innocent, helpless and peaceful people like the Ethiopians. We further feel that Italy and Mussolini must and will be stopped at all costs. . . . You see we live under the red, white and blue, and that means freedom of action, freedom of press and freedom of speech, and a government of the people, by the people and for the people. We must hold the red, white and blue high above all other colors. Italy and Mussolini may like black, yellow and green, but we real Americans must have and will have the red, white and blue."

Having been thus forced to take a stand, we gladly do so. There are some who believe Italy is right and others who believe Ethiopia is right. We believe so, too—one or the other is right. Which ever one it is, we boldly declare let her survive!

NEWSPAPER FOLKS

Newspaper folks are not the greatest folks on earth, to be sure; but a meeting of newspaper people in a group is as fine a thing as could be done for the promotion of the best interests of the craft.

This thought is accentuated by the assemblage of the First District editors in Statesboro Monday. More than thirty persons comprised the assemblage, including members of the fraternity and their families and friends. A majority of the newspapers in the district were represented, which was as large a gathering as has been known in the history of the district organization.

To be sure there is little definite discussion of matters pertinent to the operation of newspapers, and little else on which one might place a finger and declare "this will bring more dollars into the treasury." Measured by the financial phase, perhaps it might as well have been that no such assemblage should have been held. But there are other things worth while in the life of newspaper folks—in the lives of any folks. It is worth while for persons of any craft to gather and mingle in friendly contact. It is worth something to look into the face of the man who is your neighbor and your contemporary and to feel that you understand him and that he is to be trusted as a friend.

This is the sort of tangible good which comes to newspaper people when they meet in their little district conventions and rub elbows with others as they sit together around the table and listen to friendly words from those neighbors who appreciate their lives and their influences.

The meeting of newspaper folks of the district in Statesboro Monday meant good all around. It not only helped those who came as guests, but meant a substantial contribution to those people who played the part of hosts. We are glad the editors came!

The first real effect of the administration's silver policy is now in evidence. China has gone off the silver standard.

Corn-Hog Contract Is Being Prepared

Work has been started on the contract for the new two-year adjustment program for corn and hogs following conferences in Washington of producers, state agricultural specialists, and Agricultural Adjustment Administration officials on fundamental details of the new program.

Since a major adjustment problem is to prevent an excessive production of hogs in 1937, a contract of more than one year's duration is necessary, it was pointed out at the Washington conference. A two-year contract, it was thought, would be welcomed by farmers in order that they might plan their farming operations more than one year in advance.

The main objective of the new program will be to maintain a balance between the production and consumption of corn and hogs during the next two years. To accomplish this objective, it will be necessary to (1) prevent an excessive production of corn in 1936 and 1937, (2) allow an increase in next year's pig crop that would be at least as great as it is estimated, would take place with no adjustment program in effect, and (3) prevent an excessive increase in the 1937 pig crop.

The adjustment administration has recommended that corn production next year be limited to 95 million acres, or about 10 million fewer acres than would be likely to be harvested without adjustment. This would require an aggregate adjustment of approximately 20 per cent on the part of all contract signers. Depending upon the 1936 corn crop and the demand expected next fall for the 1937 crop, a maximum aggregate corn reduction of 25 per cent has been proposed for 1937.

Proposed hog adjustments are calculated to provide for a 30 per cent increase in federally inspected slaughter in 1936-37 above the slaughter expected in the present marketing year, which began October 1, 1935. It is believed that a permitted hog production equal to 100 per cent of the base will allow for the desired increase in hog numbers next year.

The new corn-hog contract will require that an area of at least equal to the number of acres held out of corn be added to the usual area of the farm devoted to soil-improving and erosion-preventing uses.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed. . . . How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators. . . . Now draining the intestinal tract of its accumulated mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs are a valuable preventive of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

SAUERBRATEN

4 pounds beef (chuck, rump or round)

Salt and pepper

1 onion

3 bay leaves

Vinegar and water

1/4 cup sugar

1/4 cup raisins

Four to six ginger snaps

1 cup thick sour cream

Salt and pepper meat. Place with onions, bay leaves, and peppercorns in a deep earthen dish. Add water to vinegar (equal parts if vinegar is strong). Add salt and sugar to taste and pour it hot over the meat to cover it. Cover dish well, put in cool place, and let stand eight days. Put meat in kettle, add onion and a little of the spiced vinegar, place in hot Dutch oven, and brown all over. Then pour on a tight fitting cover and cook slowly about 3 hours, or until tender. Add more vinegar if necessary. Take out the meat, slice for serving, and keep hot. Strain liquid into kettle, skim off fat. Melt 1/4 cup sugar, add very gradually the strained liquid, then raisins and ginger snaps, cook until thick and smooth. Pour over meat. One cup sour cream may be added to gravy if desired. Makes an excellent dish to reheate.

LEISURE ARTS

THEME OF P-T. A.

By JOAN ADAMS

REHEATING IMPROVES SOME DISHES

Did you ever know that some dishes are actually better for reheating? We usually think of reheating a dish as more or less a troublesome necessity caused by a late-comer to dinner, rather than as a planned part of cooking routine. Food that must be returned to the cooking unit for reheating is associated unromantically with "warmed-up" and "left-overs."

Dishes such as soups and stews—and the best example of this is the well known Irish stew—are really improved in flavor by reheating after being stored for a time at temperatures constant at or below 40° to insure their being kept fresh and sweet. There are many other dishes which are as tasty and enjoyable after careful reheating as when they were first served. The homemaker who has discovered this saves herself hours of preparation time by making double and even triple quantities of soups, stews, casserole dishes, and cooked vegetables, and storing the extra quantities in her refrigerator to be reheated for second and third use.

A dish should be reheated by the same method by which it was originally cooked. For example, a pot roast or stew should be returned to the pot for reheating. An oven roast may be put back again in the roasting pan, with the remaining gravy. Creamed vegetables are reheated by placing them in a hot water bath, a double boiler over hot water and by adding a little cold milk.

Green vegetables were originally served buttered must be first placed in a sieve under warm water and thoroughly washed off, so that all traces of butter which are removed before steaming the vegetables. They are then brought back to their original appetizing appearance and flavor by placing in a sieve over the bottom section of a double boiler filled with hot water. After steaming the vegetables, butter them fresh for the second serving.

A roast leg of lamb, pork or veal should be reheated by slicing the meat into the remaining gravy, after the gravy has been brought to the boiling point.

It is important to keep foods for reheating perfectly fresh and sweet at sufficiently low and constant temperatures to preserve them safely. An automatic refrigerator which holds temperatures well below 50° is the safest, best place for storing foods which are to be reheated for second and third serving.

POPOVERS WITH CREAMED MEAT

1 cup flour

1/4 teaspoon salt

2 eggs

1/2 teaspoon melted butter

Mix salt and flour, add milk gradually to make a smooth batter. Beat whole eggs until light and add to mixture. Add butter. Beat 2 minutes with egg beater, turn into buttered custard cups or hugging hot buttered iron gem pans. Bake 30 to 35 minutes, beginning with a hot oven and decreasing gradually to moderate. Remove from the oven, split open, and pour in the creamed meat and gravy. Serve piping hot.

GREAT WELCOME FOR PRESIDENT

HOMECOMING OF ROOSEVELT TO GEORGIA WILL BE CELEBRATED IN ROYAL STYLE

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 26 (GPS).—The people of Georgia will greet its part-time citizen and beloved president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, in Atlanta on Friday in what is expected to be the greatest demonstration of loyalty, confidence and affection ever extended by this commonwealth to a president of the United States.

Plans, even to the minutest detail, for the epochal visit of the great Democratic leader and friend of the masses, have been completed by the more than 175 committees representative of every county in the state, and all that remains now is to carry out the big program.

As host, Atlanta has a gigantic task on its hands in entertaining the thousands upon thousands of people who are pouring into the city every hour, and have been coming since the first day of the week by train, bus, auto and even afoot. With hotels and rooming houses packed to overflowing, many hundreds are being cared for in private homes. But all will see and hear the president when he speaks at Grant Field, the committee on arrangements announced.

Along with the grownups thousands of school children will greet the president. Plans to hold the assembly in Piedmont park, where Mr. Roosevelt will pause enroute to Grant Field, have been carefully worked out and conveyed to school authorities over the state.

Sound amplifiers will be installed in the park so that all who wish remain there and listen to his broadcast by radio. Amplifiers also have been installed at strategic points in many other parts of the city.

Public buildings, business houses and hundreds of homes throughout the city have been decorated for the occasion, with a striking picture of Roosevelt displayed on windows and entrances to buildings almost everywhere.

Thus will Atlanta and Georgia pay tribute to President Roosevelt, who has "come home."

FARM PROGRAM PROVED SUCCESS

DIVERSIFIED CROPS BRING CASH TO FARMERS OF BULLOCH COUNTY.

A statement of interest to the entire state, and especially reflecting credit upon those who direct farming activities in Bulloch county, was carried in the daily papers of the state during recent days, having been issued by County Agent Byron Dyer.

The statement is as follows:

"Byron Dyer, Bulloch county agricultural agent, today outlined the results of a diversified program adopted by farmers in this section when they started farming to make a living and not to make money."

"The program, he said, is now forming a balanced money crop."

"These crops, in the order of their financial importance, he listed as cotton, tobacco, hogs, poultry, peanuts, corn, pecans, truck and watermelons, syrup, hay, beef cattle and strawberries."

"More wheat is being shown this fall than in any of the past few years. There will also be an increased acreage and an increase in all winter cover crops—chiefly Austrian winter peas."

"Hogs are sold in a co-operative market every two weeks, approximately 5,000,000 pounds being disposed of by this method and through sales to truck buyers."

"In December, January and February between 10 and 15 cars of hogs are disposed of at every sale."

"He estimated hogs will bring about $500,000 for the 1935-36 season. This year's crop is about normal, or probably slightly larger, but the abundance of feed is enabling the farmers to finish their stuff better."

"The 1935 cotton crop, he said, will approximate $1,000,000."

"About 50,000 bushels of corn is sold annually, with the best crops for 1935 that has been produced in several years."

"Pecans for 1935, however, are short."

"More beef cattle are going on feed for the early spring market than in the past."

"The AAA has paid approximately $700,000 on cotton during the past two years, $100,000 on tobacco, $50,000 on the corn and soybean program, and $12,000 on peanuts. The sugar cane

Peterson Speaks At Rocky Ford School

Hon. Hugh Peterson, congressman from the First district, will be guest speaker at a meeting at Rocky Ford school house on Friday evening, December 6th, at 7:30 o'clock. The object of the meeting is to raise funds for the building of a community house. There will be no admission charge, but articles will be offered for sale and features of entertainment will be presented. The public is invited.

FOOTBALL SEASON WILL CLOSE TODAY

HOMECOMING EXERCISES AT TEACHERS' COLLEGE TO BE LARGELY ATTENDED

South Georgia Teachers will bring the 1935 football season to a close here Thanksgiving (today) when they meet Steadon University, from DeKalb County, at the Teachers' College, at the college, and a full day's program has been arranged.

Starting at 10:30 with the Freshman-Sophomore rush, there will be plenty of activity on the campus. At 11 o'clock there will be a meeting of the Alumni Association. Miss Helen Olliff, president of the Association, has invited and urged every former student to attend the meeting, the luncheon, the banquet, the football game and the dance. At 12:30 there will be a Senior-Alumni luncheon in the dining hall, and at 2:30 the football game.

In the evening at 6:30 the annual homecoming banquet will be held in the Alumni Hall, followed by a dance in the gymnasium.

Today J. C. Hines, Durward Fulford and Earl Riggs will play their last football game as members of the Teachers' squad. Hines is the Teachers' leading offensive player and has been for three years. He has been outstanding during his four years here in football, baseball and basketball.

Fulford, a mighty defensive player and at the same time a real ball carrier, has been the power house for the Profs during his four years. Cooney Riggs has been called by Morgan Blake one of the best centers ever to play football in Georgia. These boys say that today they mean to have a victory in the final game of their college football career.

Stetson will bring thirty husky men to Statesboro. The Floridians have been through a most successful season and will try to keep their record here. All of Coach Smith's boys are in good condition with the exception of Ferrara, who is suffering with an injured back. Hines has a charley-horse, but will see action in the game. The game will begin promptly at 2:30. Tickets will be $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Sumter Report Shows Half-Million Gain

(Georgia News Service.)

Americus, Ga., Nov. 26.—A half-million-dollar increase over last year in evaluation of Sumter county's farm crop was reported last week by County Agent J. K. Luck, who set the value of Sumter's dozen cash crops at $2,250,000. The crops include cotton, peanuts, corn, pecans, pimiento peppers, peaches, watermelons, oats, hay, hogs and cattle.

Talulations indicate an increase in nearly every yield. One thousand new mules were bought during the year with 150 new farmsteads noted. One of the year's significant achievements in agriculture was the agreement of 50 Sumter farmers to plant a single variety of cotton.

The Italians are making a first down every time they advance into Ethiopian territory but they want to take care that they don't fumble the ball.

Program has just been introduced, with no payments received.

"The parity on cotton and the subsidy on cotton for 1935, Dyer said, has not been received or accounted for."

"He added 300,000 layers have been put on the poultry farms in 1935, from which the income is above $30,000 a month. The broilers sold in the spring added a great deal to this income."

"The trend of 'back to the farm' and other factors indicate that 1936 farmers are going into 1936 with ample courage to try another crop year with the wheat that harvested in 1935," Dyer said.

The next sale will be held at the Central of Georgia pens December 4.

LIVELY CONTEST FOR CITY OFFICES

LAST-MINUTE ENTRIES IN RACE FOR COUNCIL GUARANTEE PLENTY OF ACTION.

Eleventh-hour entries in the race for membership on the city council insure a lively contest in the election to be held on Saturday of next week—December 7th.

When we use the word "eleventh-hour" we mean exactly that, because it was at 11 o'clock on Friday night, one hour before the closing time for entries—that Inman Foy, Prince H. Preston and E. M. Morris made notice of their candidacies to succeed the three members of the council whose terms are expiring—R. L. Cone, Arthur Howard and W. D. Anderson, all seeking re-election.

Since the formal filing of their candidacies, three new aspirants have let their friends hear from them at every opportunity. So far as is known, there is no real issue upon which the battle is to be waged. Merely that some people insist that new energy should be introduced into the city government.

It has been learned, too, that the introduction of these new aspirants was not without considerable agitation on the part of those who are favorable to the movement. It is understood that frequent conferences were held until the final moment came when it was believed that the proper line had been found.

The three members whose terms are expiring have been on the board for many years, and have demonstrated their loyalty to duty in every emergency. The three new aspirants are young men of vigor and ability, and their friends are confident that their election will not in any wise jeopardize the best interest of the city.

With ten days longer to run, there is promise of a right warm little contest.

It is said that the Democratic national committee is in debt more than $400,000. But compared with the federal deficit that is mere chicken feed.

STATSBORO LADY SPEAK OVER RADIO

MRS. JULIAN C. LANE CHOSEN BY STATE COMMITTEE TO EXTEND WELCOME TOMORROW

The people of Statesboro and of the entire county are delighted that this city will be represented on the program of the Roosevelt homecoming celebration in Atlanta tomorrow. Mrs. Julian C. Lane will be one of five persons of the state to extend greetings over WGST station at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

This is a high honor accorded Mrs. Lane in recognition of her work as a Democratic leader. She is president of the First District Woman's Democratic Club and also of the Eleanor Roosevelt Democratic Club here. She served as a member of the state Democratic committee, is now secretary on the executive Democratic committee of the First district, and won national recognition as local national committee-woman. She has always been a staunch supporter of Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Democratic party.

Reis Coker, program chairman of the celebration, wrote Mrs. Lane: "We of the committee feel that there is no one who could honor our program by participating therein, more than you."

Mrs. Lane has also been placed on the hostess committee and has been assigned a place on the stage for the program.

LOCAL HOGS BRING TOP PRICES

The quality of finish on the hogs entered in the last sale resulted in the farmers getting 30 points above the local market for their hogs. Hogs were quoted at $7.50 to $7.75 locally, while the sale brought $7.90 for tops.

The 325 head of hogs entered in the sale weighed 63,280 pounds, averaging 196 pounds per head. The 233 tops averaged 203 pounds per head.

The local market for hogs, 1935, was $4,905.50 to the 32 farmers entering here, while the 325 head of hogs entered in the spring added a great deal to this income.

The next sale will be held at the Central of Georgia pens December 4.
